Homework Assignment 10
Software Design & Programming Techniques (WS2014)

The deadline for this assignment is the exercise session on Friday Jan 30th, 10:00.

1 API Design

In the last lectures we have seen several principles that can lead to better API design. For the upcoming lab session:

1. Select an existing software project you want to apply the principles to. It can be your own software project or an existing open source project.

2. Please bring a computer or a device that allows you to browse the source code of the selected project.
